the single shot fired toward them. AT THE NOON HOUR the scolars of school district No. 21 whose school house, just built last fail, is situated on Ponca Creek, just north of Florence, were out in the front yard playing, some of them at snowballing. While thus engaged a wagon was driven up containing three young men, two of the Shipley boys nephews of Mr L. Shipley, who re-sides in that locality and the third a man named Lem Harbaugh. Harbaugh and one of the Shipley boys had been

NEBRASKA WEATHER. Builetin for January, 1883

This month was cold and stormy,

BAINFALL.

The average was, by sections, as fol lows: Southeast, 0.97 in ; northeast, 1.74 in.; northwest, 1 00 in.; southwest, 0.63 in. Average for the entire state, 1.09 of an inch. This is from melted snow, and is about two-thirds the usual amount for this month. Mean relative humidity, at Omaha, 63.7 ; at North Platte, 71.2. TEMPERATURE.

The mean temperature of the all was 121°, which is 102° colder than the mean of January for the last twelve years, and almost exactly the same as January, 1881.

The average of all noon observa tions was 22 3 °. During the 19th 20th and 21st the mercury did not rise above zero. There was good sleighing in most parts of the state asked during the month.

The following are some of the maxt mum and minimum temperatures reported: Omahe, max, 46 3°; min. -22.1°; North Platte, max., 50 3° min., -26°; De Soto, max., 39° min., -28°; Agricultural College, max., 40°; min., -20°; Beaver Creek, max., 52°; min., -24°. Wind-Number of miles traveled MISCELLANEOUL PHENOMENA. Owing to the amount of frozen vapor in the atmosphere, many hales or portions of halos, commonly called sun dogs, were seen. Some were reported at every station. Three somewhat remarkable hales accompanied by a beautiful parhelia were reported: 1. By Miss Fiora Buck, of Red Willow, at 8:30 a. m. on the 19 h. Th poritons of the halo seen on each side of the sun were something more than quadrants; in the middle of each was bright parhelion, from which streamer of light extended in a direction away from the sun.

2 Observer E. D. Howe, of Table Rock, reports one on the 13th, similar to the above, but with a bright arc of a circle above and with its convex side towards the sun.

3. Observer Griswold, of Palmyra observed one on the 2d. Here in addition to the parhella on each side of light, the one horizontal and the other perpendicular, passing through the sun, formed a cross, the upper part of which was the brightest and highest. From the parhelia streams of light extended away from the sun as in the one seen at Red Willow. .

OUR BRIDAL PARTY.

A Fraternal Invitation to the Craft.

Mr. O. H. Rothacker, editor of the ald, enlisted at Fort Omaha, Nebras-Denver Tribune, is going to be mar- ka, are assigned to the Fourth infanried. Like all other newspaper men who stick to the business, he is immensely rich, and believes in giving his friends of the fraternity a pionic whenever it is possible.

Mr. Rothacker is to marry Miss with more than the usual amount of Rounds, of Chicago, on the 21st inst., and he is evidently making the grand rounds beforehand. He will come east over the Burlington short line to Denver, arriving at Pacific Junction on Sunday next, the 18th, Chicago on the 19 h, and leaving Chicago on the 22d for Danver with his bride.

The distinguished journalist will travel in his own special Pullman car, and will be accompanied by a party made up of fellow journalists, government officials, United States senators and Colorado legislators. The list includes the following named gentlemen and ladies:

John Arkins and wife, manager of The News; W. H. Stapleton, editor of The Rocky Mountain Naws; Hon. E. K. Stinson, Denver; J. C. Montgomery and wife, collector of The Port of Denver: W. M. Cox and wife, Denver; Senator W. H. Kuoney, Denver; Representative T. F. Arbistor, Denver; Hon. J. H. P. Voorhees, senator from San Juan; Hon. T. M. Bowen, United States senator elect; G. H. The following communication was received yesterday by the general ticket agent of the B. & M. road from the Tribune Primer man:

DENVER, Col., Feb. 13. DEAR MR. EUSTIS: Will you please extend to the newspaper men of your city, for us, an invitation to come down to Pacific Junction next Sunday evening and take supper with our bridal party? Truly yours, EUGENE FIELD.

The Omaha newspaper men will no doubt respond with alacrity to this nvitation and will of course go down in style to meet the distinguished party, though it would have been a source of gratification to have dined with them on the return trip when the lady whose charms have lured them from the centennial state would be with them.

RANDALL'S RACKET.

He is About to Begin the War in Eastern States.

A few days ago, upon his visit to Omaha, Mr. R. R. Randall, the B. & M. immigration agent, told a BEE reporter that he expected a larger immigration to Nebraska in 1883 than ever before and that "hostilities" would soon begin. He has just issued his proclamation announcing that war is o begin at once. He addresses it

To the people of Nebraska: Great efforts should be made this year to settle the vacant lands and increase the population of the towns in the bouth Platte counties. The railroads have sold most of the land they owned in this district, and the legislature has failed to take proper steps for the encouragement of immigration. Believing that the people are fully alive to the importance of the matter, the passenger department of the Burlington & Missouri railroad has appointed me immigration agent, and will bear the entire expense of the work, including the necessary pamph lets and other advertising matter.

The work will consist largely of etforts to bring to the state the friends and relatives of those who are already settled here. I am thoroughly posted in all such matters, and desire the cooperation of all the people to aid me in my work, as it is of direct interest to them all.

Let every one, therefore, send me as soon as possible, the name and address of any eastern friend who would be interested in Nebraska, send me your address, and I will send you circulars, which you can send to your friends, and thus induce them to open a correspondence with me.

I have obtained reduced rates to all points in the South Platte country, from all the principal towns in In-dians, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wis-consin, Iowa and Minnesota, and propose to make frequent trips to hose states, and organize excursions to Nebraska, composed largely of the friends of this state.

The South Platte still contans thousands of acres of unoccupied and very fine sgricultural lands, very cheap, and with excellent vailroad facilities The settlement of the these lands will greatly increase the wealth of the state, and be of direct profit and advantage to every resident. All this can be easily and quickly done if the farmers and business men will take a little timeaud trouble to write to their friends and then put me in communi-cation with such persons as are de-sirous of coming to Nebraska to make the state their future home.
